Dear Mr. Loisel,

After speaking to you I decided to make a copy of the letter from my friend in California so you could get his opinions on Dean and Guy Gabaldon.

I am sorry it is not clearer, but my Thermofax had been retired by someone else several years ago.

You asked if I could come to New Orleans. I can at almost any time if it can be important to you. I would rather finish the rough draft of what I am writing first. That should take about ten days.

After then, I would like to very much.

The two tapes are being sent separately.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
